

Disney Mortgages The Mickey Mouse Club!?

One may think that the profits from a successful show are so huge that the promoter will be swimming in money. Most businessmen know what ever profits accrue are usually already invested in the next project. Indeed, most businessmen are in deep debt and must continue their efforts just to pay the bills.

The Walt Disney production's company is no exception. Here, money is borrowed (8,5 million dollars worth) and will be paid back from the profits of various aspects of the company. In this case, Disney mortgages the "Mickey Mouse Club" profits. Not many "Mouseketeers" had any idea that the club was deeply in debt.
